

INVITATION

SUSTAINABILITY CONFERENCE 2022

For all nex(t) generations

The businesses of our customers are going through a deep transformation. There is a growing call for new products and materials that help to build a better world for all nex(t) generations. At allnex, we are constantly working to answer this call with next-generation solutions.

To present some of these innovations to you, while also giving you insights on the latest trends, regulations and technologies, we would like to invite you to our first virtual Sustainability Conference. It will offer you easy access to the expertise of nearly 20 of our specialists. It will also be a chance for you and us to deepen our partnership in tackling the great challenge of our generation.

The conference will be on October 11–13, 2022, focusing on the following segments:

11 OCT 2022
Packaging & Consumer Goods

12 OCT 2022
Transportation & Mobility

13 OCT 2022
Construction & Infrastructure

After your registration, you will have full access to our agenda. Looking forward to your participation!

Sincerely,

Davy De Clercq
Head of Sustainability
